

Collaboration Agreement

Date: June 9, 2018

Project Title: Electoral Effects of Development Aid: Experimental Evidence from Sierra Leone

Collaborators: Kevin Grieco (UCLA), Niccoló Meriggi (Wageningen University), Maarten Voors (Wageningen University)

Agreement of past and future contributions

1. All authors assisted in raising funds for the project.
2. All authors assisted in the data collection process. Meriggi managed research teams in Sierra Leone and supervised enumerator training and all field operations. Grieco, Meriggi, and Voors developed survey instruments and field manuals.
3. All authors will contribute to the writing and reviewing of the paper
4. All authors will accept responsibility for the paper and the results

Authorship Agreement: Collaborators will be listed alphabetically as co-authors.

Additional Information: Pre-Analysis Plan

Grieco will first prepare a draft pre-analysis plan. This plan will be submitted for academic credit as part of a Distributive Politics course with Professor Miriam Golden (UCLA). Once the draft pre-analysis plan is completed and submitted for course credit, Grieco will circulate the draft to Meriggi and Voors. Once reviewed and competed, the pre-analysis plan will be register at EGAP.
